FUND MANAGER COMMENTARY

Despite starting the month well, global equities ended November on a weaker note on the back of rising Covid hospitalization cases in Europe and concerns about the new Omicron variant. The US Consumer Price Index (CPI) jumped 6.2% year-on-year in October, hitting its highest reading in 31 years reinforcing the need for tapering by the US Federal Reserve. Moving forward the pace of tapering may hinge on developments surrounding Omicron. The current trend of equities outperforming bonds will likely continue albeit with higher volatility in the coming months. The Advanced portfolios continue to overweight developed market equities where above-trend growth is expected to continue in at least the first half of 2022 which will support the upward earnings revision momentum. We continue to advocate a neutral position towards Investment Grade credits.
