FUND MANAGER COMMENTARY

Major central banks remain committed to bring inflation under control, despite the risk of slowing growth outlook. Although inflation in US appear to have passed its peak, it remains elevated against Fed's target of 2%. The hawkish speech by Fed's Jerome Powell at Jackson Hole has shown that the Fed remains committed to cool down inflation even if it risks running into a recession. This hawkish stance continued to support the US dollar throughout the month, while weighing on equity and bond market returns. Investors will continue to watch the pace of policy tightening by the Fed. Most immediate will be September's Federal Open Market Committee (FOMC) meeting where the fed funds futures market is pricing nearly 75% probability of a 0.75% increase. The reopening of borders will however see higher demand for services as tourism and traveling gain pace with Covid-related restrictions easing, providing the much-needed tailwind to support global economies. The Advanced portfolios have put in place a tactical exposure to Asia Ex-Japan equities on the back of the reopening of ASEAN economies as well as attractive valuations of Chinese stocks while continuing to stay diversified and slightly underweight equities.
