FUND MANAGER COMMENTARY

We think 2023 will be "a year of inflections", through a macro recovery, a Fed "pivot" and a turnaround in asset class performance compared to 2022. But every inflection point must first come with a weakening phase. On the macro front, we think US growth will stall, corporate profits will decline, and associated cost cutting should lead to higher unemployment rates, translating to a higher probability of a recession sometime near the middle of the year. Equity valuations, on the other hand, may test lower before recovering some ground in the latter half of 2023. The Advances portfolios continue to be diversified while adopting a more constructive view on fixed income and advocate a neutral position towards Investment Grade bonds.
