FUND MANAGER COMMENTARY

In April 2024, USD Prime Global Equity Fund booked negative performance of -2.44% mom, above the benchmark performance. Last month, global equity posted a mixed performance with Developed Market saw a correction driven by Japan and US while Emerging Market posted a better performance with China being the best performer followed by India. Global equities decline in April 2024, halting a run of five consecutive months of positive returns. The pace of job creation in the US and average hourly earnings slowed in April 2024, though remained positive. ICQ24 GDP for the US also slowed. In addition, April 2024 saw both the US manufacturing sector and services sector PMI dip down to contractionary territory. Having all that said and a sharp reversal in rate cut expectations spurred the Developed Market sell-off, with the Fed now priced to cut only once this year against the three cuts that were priced at the beginning of April. Going forward, equity market will continue to depend on the development of global and domestic factors such as development on global inflationary pressure and subsequent policy reaction, global economic growth, and geopolitical situation.
