FUND MANAGER COMMENTARY

The USD Fixed Income Fund experienced a negative return of -1.55% in March 2025. This was influenced by the 10-year US Treasury yield and USD Indonesia Government bond yield, which stayed flat at 4.21% and increased by 12 bps to 5.32%. Meanwhile, Federal Reserve maintained its benchmark interest rate in the 4.25%–4.50% range and reiterated its projection of two 25-basis-point (bps) rate cuts by year-end.

IDR Fixed Income Fund generated -0.54% in March 2025, and the 10-year government bond yield increased by 9 bps to 7.00%. Market sentiment came from a rare fiscal deficit of IDR -23.45 trillion in January on sluggish tax revenues and foreign reserves fell to USD 154.5 billion in February, down from USD 156.1 billion in the previous month. Meanwhile, Bank Indonesia (BI) decided to maintain the interest rate at 5.75%, in line with BI's efforts to maintain macroeconomic stability, particularly in keeping inflation within the 2.5% ($\pm 1\%$) target for 2025 and 2026.

FUND MANAGER COMMENTARY

In March 2025, IDR Equity Fund booked positive performance of +2.95% mom, above benchmark performance. Indonesia equity market rebounded in Mar-25 after the sharp drop in the previous month, thanks to some local buying and reduced foreign net outflows. Financials sector led the recovery, while materials sector was the drag in Mar-25. Nevertheless, market volatility remained high over the month of Mar-25. Going forward, post the massive foreign outflows and excessive market correction YTD, we believe Indonesia equity market valuations are very attractive currently, pricing in too many negative scenarios that may not materialize. This could create a good buying opportunity, with attractive risk-reward proposition in the long run. We continue to believe that the potential of sustainable and structural improvement in Indonesian economy with potentially rising GDP/capita could become a positive tailwind for long-term Indonesian equity market return.

FUND MANAGER COMMENTARY

In March 2025, IDR Balanced Fund booked performance of +2.10% MoM, below the benchmark performance. In March 2025, JCI experienced significant volatility, marked by sharp declines and temporary recoveries. On March 18, the JCI plunged by -7.1%, triggering a temporary trading halt – the steepest drop since 2011. Contributing factors were weakening consumer spending and confidence, fiscal policy worries, and political uncertainty. Concerns over escalating US tariff policies also escalated capital flight. That said, the Indonesian Government's regulatory and monetary responses helped aid some confidence back to the market at month end. In terms of sector inside MXID Index, largest positive contributors were Information Financials, Industrials, and Consumer Discretionary. Foreign investors recorded another net outflow of -Rp8.1tn (-US$490mn) in March which was better compared to the -Rp15.4tn (-US$944mn) outflow in Feb25. The Rupiah declined another -0.5% m-m in Mar25 vs USD. Bloomberg EM Local Currency: Indonesia Total Return Index Unhedged IDR recorded negative return by -0.17% on monthly basis, and the 10-year government bond yield increased by 9 bps to 7.00%. Market sentiment came from rare fiscal deficit of IDR -23.45 trillion in January on sluggish tax revenues and foreign reserves fell to USD 154.5 billion in February, down from USD 156.1 billion in the previous month.

IDR Cash Syariah Fund generated +0.34% in March 2025 performance. Sharia Mudarabah returns maintained at 4.50%–6.50% p.a. Inflation increased to 1.03% in March compared to -0.09% YoY in the previous month and IDR stable at Rp 16,560/USD. Meanwhile, Bank Indonesia decided to maintain the interest rate at 5.75%. This is in line with BI's efforts to stabilize the Rupiah exchange rate and promoting economic growth, as well as maintaining inflation within the 2.5% (±1%) target for 2025 and 2026.

FUND MANAGER COMMENTARY

In March 2025, IDR Equity Syariah Fund booked negative performance of -0.38% mom, better than the benchmark performance. In March 2025, JCI experienced significant volatility, marked by sharp declines and temporary recoveries. On March 18, the JCI plunged by -7.1%, triggering a temporary trading halt – the steepest drop since 2011. Contributing factors were weakening consumer spending and confidence, fiscal policy worries, and political uncertainty. Concerns over escalating US tariff policies also escalated capital flight. That said, the Indonesian Government's regulatory and monetary responses helped aid some confidence back to the market at month end. Including eased share buyback regulations, more clarity on key cabinet positions, as well as BI safeguarding the Rupiah. In terms of sector inside JAKISL, largest negative contributors were Materials, Consumer Discretionary, and Energy. Foreign investors recorded another net outflow of -Rp8.1tn (-US$490mn) in March which was better compared to the -Rp15.4tn (-US$944mn) outflow in Feb25. The Rupiah declined another -0.5% m-m in Mar25 vs USD. Going forward, equity market volatility may remain high especially regarding US tariff policies and the potential retaliatory. That said, we continue to believe that the potential of sustainable and structural improvement in Indonesian economy with potentially rising GDP/capita could become a positive tailwind for long-term Indonesian equity market return, as such current market weakness and the attractive market valuation (-2SD below mean) could offer a good market entry opportunity with an attractive risk-reward.

In March 2025, IDR China India Indonesia Equity Fund posted +4.96% below benchmark performance. China equity market continue its positive performance in March 2025 (delivered 1.7% performance), with India posting +9% MoM performance. Indonesian equity market experienced heightened volatility despite posting positive 6% MoM performance, on March 18th the index plunged by 7.1%, triggering the first trading halt since COVID. The market's downturn reflected broader anxieties about Indonesia's economic stability, including fears of deflation and a decrease in consumer confidence. Additionally, rumors about potential changes in the finance ministry further unsettled investors. In response to these market conditions, the Financial Services Authority (OJK) implemented measures to stabilize the market, such as allowing publicly listed companies to repurchase shares without prior shareholder approval.

FUND MANAGER COMMENTARY

In March 2025, IDR Prime Equity Fund booked positive performance of +3.06% mom, below the benchmark performance. By sector inside JCI, Financials was the largest positive contributor (3.2% mom), while Materials was the largest negative contributor (-0.6% mom). Last month, Global equities dipped again in March 2025 for the second consecutive month and ended 1Q 2025 in negative territory. For March 2025, across the major geographic regions in USD terms, India equities led, while US equities lagged. On the US macro front, a concerning mix of stuttering growth and rising inflation is fueling fears of stagflation. During March, China market inched higher ahead of the US' tariff decision on 2nd of April 2025. China's manufacturing sector continued to expand as the China manufacturing PMI was in expansionary territory for the second consecutive month in March 2025. JCI recorded a rebound of +3.8% m-m in the month of March; after coming out from the bloodbath in Feb25 where the index corrected down by -11.8% m-m. The rebound was mainly driven by large banking names during the month as positive news in regard to AGM result on management changes and higher-than-expected dividend yield helped to push investors' confidence back into these attractively valued banking names. Last but not least, the full Danantara (Indonesia's newest SWF) team announcement also provided a positive surprise with some highly respected names taking the managing director roles at the same time together with huge global foreign individual names (i.e. Ray Dalio, Jeffrey Sachs, Chapman Taylor and more) completing the advisory board role as well. Foreign investors recorded another net outflow of -Rp8.1tn in March which was better compared to the -Rp15.4tn outflow in Feb25. The Rupiah currency went down another -0.5% m-m in Mar25 against USD. Going forward, the potential of sustainable and structural improvement in Indonesian economy with rising GDP/capita will become positive tailwind for long term Indonesian equity asset class for medium-long term horizon.

IDR Prime Fixed Income Fund generated -0.42% in March 2025, and the 10-year government bond yield increased by 9 bps to 7.00%. Market sentiment came from a rare fiscal deficit of IDR -23.45 trillion in January on sluggish tax revenues and foreign reserves fell to USD 154.5 billion in February, down from USD 156.1 billion in the previous month. Meanwhile, Bank Indonesia (BI) decided to maintain the interest rate at 5.75%, in line with BI's efforts to maintain macroeconomic stability, particularly in keeping inflation within the 2.5% (±1%) target for 2025 and 2026.

FUND MANAGER COMMENTARY

In March 2025, IDR Growth Equity Syariah Fund booked positive performance of +0.07% mom, below the benchmark performance. In March 2025, JCI experienced significant volatility, marked by sharp declines and temporary recoveries. On March 18, the JCI plunged by -7.1%, triggering a temporary trading halt – the steepest drop since 2011. Contributing factors were weakening consumer spending and confidence, fiscal policy worries, and political uncertainty. Concerns over escalating US tariff policies also escalated capital flight. That said, the Indonesian Government's regulatory and monetary responses helped aid some confidence back to the market at month end. Including eased share buyback regulations, more clarity on key cabinet positions, as well as BI safeguarding the Rupiah. In terms of sector inside ISSI Index, largest positive contributors were Information Technology (mainly DCII IJ), and Energy (mainly DSSA IJ). Foreign investors recorded another net outflow of -Rp8.1tn (-US$490mn) in March which was better compared to the -Rp15.4tn (-US$944mn) outflow in Feb25. The Rupiah declined another -0.5% m-m in Mar25 vs USD. Going forward, equity market volatility may remain high especially regarding US tariff policies and the potential retaliatory. That said, we continue to believe that the potential of sustainable and structural improvement in Indonesian economy with potentially rising GDP/capita could become a positive tailwind for long-term Indonesian equity market return, as such current market weakness and the attractive market valuation (-2SD below mean) could offer a good market entry opportunity with an attractive risk-reward.

In March 2025, USD Global Growth Opportunity Equity Fund booked negative performance of -3.27% mom, below the benchmark performance. Last month, Global equities dipped again in March 2025 for the second consecutive month and ended 1Q 2025 in negative territory. For March 2025, across the major geographic regions in USD terms, India equities led, while US equities lagged. On the US macro front, a concerning mix of stuttering growth and rising inflation is fueling fears of stagflation. During March, China market inched higher ahead of the US' tariff decision on 2nd of April 2025. China's manufacturing sector continued to expand as the China manufacturing PMI was in expansionary territory for the second consecutive month in March 2025. Going forward, equity market will continue to depend on the development of global and domestic factors such as development on global inflationary pressure and subsequent policy reaction, global economic growth, and geopolitical situation.

FUND MANAGER COMMENTARY

In March 2025, USD Prime Emerging Market Equity Fund booked positive performance of +4.64% mom, above the benchmark performance. Last month, Global equities dipped again in March 2025 for the second consecutive month and ended 1Q 2025 in negative territory. For March 2025, across the major geographic regions in USD terms, India equities led, while US equities lagged. On the US macro front, a concerning mix of stuttering growth and rising inflation is fueling fears of stagflation. During March, China market inched higher ahead of the US' tariff decision on 2nd of April 2025. China's manufacturing sector continued to expand as the China manufacturing PMI was in expansionary territory for the second consecutive month in March 2025. Going forward, equity market will continue to depend on the development of global and domestic factors such as development on global inflationary pressure and subsequent policy reaction, global economic growth, and geopolitical situation.

FUND MANAGER COMMENTARY

In March 2025, positions that contributed positively to our fund performance are our overweight in Materials sector. Meanwhile positions that affected our performance negatively are our overweight in Consumer Staples and underweight in big banks. In conjunction with decline in retailer sales data, Consumer Staple names that we overweight declined due to weak Lebaran sales. Big banks also rallied during the month on the back of favourable Danantara and Himbara management changes.

FUND MANAGER COMMENTARY

In March 2025, the fund generated a relatively flat performance of -0.08% mom. Detractors were including listed infrastructure which continued to struggle and European equity hedge due to weaker growth picture. While contributors including High Yield European and Hybrid and EM debt supported performance. Towards the end of Q1, the market experienced increasing uncertainty around tariffs, leading to heightened concerns about prolonged higher inflation. This resulted in significant risk-off moves, particularly influenced by fears of stagflation and a cautious US growth outlook. Consequently, tech stocks struggled, ending the quarter down by 16%, and the US dollar fell by 4% in the first quarter.

In March 2025, USD Adventurous Fund booked negative performance of -1.54% mom above the benchmark by 102 bps. Global equities dipped again in March 2025 for the second consecutive month and ended 1Q 2025 in negative territory. For March 2025, across the major geographic regions in USD terms, India equities led, while US equities lagged. On the US macro front, a concerning mix of stuttering growth and rising inflation is fueling fears of stagflation. The fixed income markets rose in March 2025 for the second consecutive month. US Treasuries, Investment Grade and High Yield indices were all up in March 2025. Markets could remain volatile as market participants are assessing whether a new world order has been established, where the previous regime of globalization and free trade has been abruptly displaced by a regime where countries erect trade barriers and protectionism takes precedence. Over the short term, we remain vigilant and stay on the sidelines. This is because going into the sharp sell-off, risk taking of the Elite Funds has already been brought down and our assessment is that technical conditions remain challenged, sentiment remain depressed and thus volatility is likely to remain elevated. Equities are arguably on sale at the point of writing and the investment team is actively looking for better entry points. A rebound in risk assets could be catalyzed by policy response as past stress episodes typically see policy makers inject liquidity into the financial system. The key is to stick to a disciplined investment process, carefully weigh medium term upside returns versus downside risks and not be whipsawed by the volatile market environment.
