FUND MANAGER COMMENTARY

In September 2026, USD Global Growth Opportunity Equity Fund booked -0.10% MoM which was above benchmark performance. Last month, Global market fell by -1.2%MoM. Japan equities led while India lagged. Markets were driven by the surge in bond yields, the Fed's first hike in over three years and elevated energy prices from the Middle East war. Resilient earnings and AI enthusiasm limited the damage. China market declined by -4.5%MoM. Market was driven by Fed rate hike, stronger Dollar, and higher global yields as well as rising Middle East risk. Chinese tech stocks were volatile. Retail sales in China grew at a modest pace, reflecting softness in consumer demand. Manufacturing and Services Purchasing Managers Indices moved back to modest expansionary territory in September 2026 from contractionary territory the previous month. We are moderately constructive on the outlook for risk assets over the medium term.
